

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

THE ballroom of the Jefferson Hotel presented a beautiful scene last night, when Mr. and Mrs. R. Hughes Lindsey introduced their debutante daughter, Miss Eleanor Hazard Lindsey, to the smart social world of Richmond.

The debutante stood beside her mother to be presented. She was dressed in a white satin dress of French make, and held in her arm a bouquet of pink roses. The musicians' stage, luxuriantly banked and screened with palms, was flanked right and left with the favor tables, presided over by Mrs. Egbert Jackson Armstrong, of New York; Mrs. Charles B. Worthing, Jr., Mrs. Henry Landon Cabell, Mrs. John W. Harrison and Mrs. Harry W. Hazard. Elegant and dainty conceits in rainbow colors heaped the tables and added to the effect produced otherwise by the blending of hues and the sparkle of jewels.

Pink prevailed in floral decorations, the galleries being hung with Southern smilax that was interwoven with pink azaleas. General and informal dancing before supper was followed by the cotillion afterward. The supper was served at small tables in the dining-room of the Jefferson, each table having a centerpiece of pink roses, mignonette and narcissi.

Birthday Party.—Mr. Julien Hill led the cotillion most gracefully and with novel and quaint devices in figures. The evening throughout was delightful to every member of a large and brilliant company, who gathered to render the entrance of Miss Eleanor Lindsey into the fashionable circle of Richmond as flattering a success as could be desired or imagined.

Miss Grace McKee, of Chicago, who is spending the winter at 215 East Franklin Street, this city, had her birthday most pleasantly celebrated Tuesday evening by a gathering of friends to help her cut her birthday cake and to offer her their good wishes and congratulations.

The table was decorated with pink and green. The cake, wreathed around with flowers, occupied the place of honor in the center. Its cutting was preceded by a contest, in which the men trimmed "Merry Widow" hats for the girls. Dr. Lawrence Price, who decorated a hat in Dolly Varden colors for Miss Nellie Williams, winning the prize. When the cake was cut the ring fell to Mr. J. Randolph Tucker, the thimble to Miss Nancy Seiden and the dime to Mr. Luther Jeffers.

Those present were Misses Louise and Grace McKee, Nellie Morton, Vera Palmer, Nancy Seiden, Aline Jennings, Nellie Williams, Dr. Lawrence Price, Messrs. Robert Winston, Burton Sheard, John Randolph Tucker, Ernest Mead, Clarence Gray and Luther Jeffers.

Grubbs-Marshall.—A marriage of interest in the West End took place Tuesday night, December 8th, at 9 o'clock, in Randolph Street Baptist Church, when Miss Charlotte E. Marshall, a popular young lady in the West End, became the bride of Mr. Arthur A. Grubbs, also of Richmond. The church was very tastefully decorated with palms and evergreens. The ushers were Messrs. Bruce Frost, Garrett Winner, Preston Southard and Howard L. Barnum. Little Misses Annie Carter, Ora Lee Carter and Dorothy Marshall were the ribbon girls.

The groom entered the church with his best man, Mr. Henry Tiller, and the bride was accompanied to the altar by her maid of honor, Miss Maggie Triplett, who carried pink carnations. The bride wore white silk and carried white carnations. Mr. W. F. Alley presided at the organ and rendered the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Robertson, pastor of the church. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, giving evidence of the popularity of the two young people.

After the ceremony a reception was tendered the bride party by the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Grayson Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Grubbs will be at home to their friends at 63 South Harrison Street after December 10th.

Recital and Concert.—In Westminster Presbyterian Church this evening at 8:15 o'clock a piano recital and concert will be followed by a reception and the serving of refreshments. The entertainment is given to promote better acquaintance among members of the church and congregation. Those taking part in the recital and concert will be Mr. William Rein-

Lecture on "The Tempest."

The third and last of the series of free lectures on Shakespeare, given by Dr. F. C. Woodward, under the auspices of the Richmond Training School for Kindergarten, will take place at Central School on Thursday, December 10th, at 4 P. M. The subject of this lecture will be "The Tempest," which will be treated from an ethical standpoint, this being the climax of altruism, as opposed to the selfish and introspective view of the world presented in the two former lectures on "Romeo and Juliet" and "Hamlet." All who are interested are cordially invited to be present.

Thanks Returned.

The board of managers of the Richmond Home for Ladies, located on Seventh Street between Clay and Leigh, desire to return thanks to the public for their generosity on Thanksgiving Day, this being the climax of altruism, as opposed to the selfish and introspective view of the world presented in the two former lectures on "Romeo and Juliet" and "Hamlet." All who are interested are cordially invited to be present.

Covenanters at Home.

Covenanters Company, No. 15, of Mispah Presbyterian Church, Chestnut Hill, will be glad to welcome friends interested in the company and its work in the Covenanter rooms to-morrow afternoon and evening, December 11th, from 4 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Blanton Here.

Mrs. A. Cole Blanton reached this city yesterday to remain until after the holidays with Mrs. T. L. Blanton and other relatives. Afterward she will rejoin her husband in the far West and Mexico, where he has been for the past two years as civil engineer, in charge of several hydro-electric and irrigation projects in that interesting section.

Mrs. Blanton has been constantly with her husband during his work and travels, sharing the dangers and interesting experiences to be met with in the wonderful Rockies.

Mr. Blanton has recently completed the preliminary and basic construction of the highest dam in the world—Shoshone Dam, Wyoming—among the great engineering and construction plans for the big Austin, Tex., dam and pumping station. He goes from Austin to similar work in Mexico and the States.

A gratifying experience to all Virginians encountered by Mr. Blanton lies in the fact that a majority of the important engineering and executive positions in the work of development witnessed by her were filled by Virginians and other Southerners.

Veterans' Christmas.

The regular meeting of Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, was held at 11 A. M. yesterday in Lee Camp Hall, Mrs. N. V. Randolph in the chair.

It was decided to give the annual Christmas dinner to the veterans of Lee Camp Home at the home on December 24th at 1 P. M. Mrs. W. R. Yawter was made chairman of the committee for the day, with the privilege of choosing her associates. The list of all chapter members is being compiled.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Alice Smith, of Cumberland, Va., has sufficiently improved to be able to leave Virginia Hospital. She will visit her niece, Mrs. P. L. Palmer, of 815

MISS RUBY CARYN ROBERTS, of East Radford, whose marriage, to Mr. Andrew Frederick Cannady, of Richmond, took place Wednesday evening at Grove Avenue Methodist Church, Radford.

Floyd Avenue, for several days before returning home.

Miss Battle Dickinson, of Farmville, who is spending the winter at Hollins, is in the city with her sister, who has come to consult Dr. George Ben Johnston. While here Miss Dickinson is at 215 East Franklin Street.

Mrs. H. B. Smith, of Horn Quarter, King William county, spent a few days of this week in the city.

Mrs. Russell Robinson, of Nelson county, accompanied by her little granddaughter, is a visitor to the city.

Mr. William Gray and Mr. Charles Wortham have returned from a visit to Hot Springs, Va.

Mrs. John L. Eubank, who has been spending some weeks on South Third Street, with her friends, Mrs. St. John and Mrs. Herndon, will leave for the South before the holidays.

Cannady-Roberts.—RADFORD, VA., December 9.—One of the most beautiful weddings ever witnessed in East Radford was celebrated at Grove Avenue Methodist Church, South, at 3:30 o'clock this evening, when Miss Ruby Caryn Roberts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roberts, became the bride of Mr. Andrew Frederick Cannady, of Richmond. Rev. J. A. H. Shuler, pastor of Grove Avenue Church, was the celebrant.

The church was very elaborately decorated, the color scheme of pink and green being charmingly carried out in evergreens, ferns, English ivy, hundreds of pink roses, pink ribbons and pink candles.

Mrs. J. Harvey Barnett, aunt of the bride, played the wedding march from Lohengrin in Mendelssohn, and violin numbers were rendered by Professor Myer of Roanoke, before the service. Miss Susan Culpin acted as accompanist.

The bride entered with and was given away by her father, and the best man was Rev. J. J. Scherer, Jr., pastor of the English Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Richmond. The groomsmen were Mr. Hal C. Tryer and Mr. Walter R. Roberts, Jr. The wedding ushers were Messrs. Vernon Martin and Truman Bullard. Church ushers: Messrs. J. Harvey Barnett, E. E. Roberts and Charles Cannady.

Mrs. Frank Ernest Roberts, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Misses Ruth Sue Kidd, of Bristol, and Helen Preston, of Salem, bridesmaids; altar girls, Misses Louise McElrath, Maud Johnson, Lena Martin, Mabel Bradley, Julia Sullivan, Rosa Clidstone, Annie Lucas, Louise Shuler, Alice Hill and Lottie Roberts.

A reception to the bride party was given at the home of the bride's parents from 9 to 11. The hall and parlors were decorated with pink Bride roses and rns and lighted with pink candles. The dining room was in holly and mistletoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannady left on the midnight train for Washington and Richmond, from which point they will go to Jacksonville, Key West and Cuba, spending the holidays in Havana. They will be at home to their friends in Richmond after the first of the year, where they will reside.

The bride is a beautiful and popular young girl, the daughter of Mr. Arthur Roberts, agent and yard master of the Norfolk and Western Railway at East Radford. The bridegroom, who is special agent for the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, located at Richmond, formerly lived here and is highly esteemed.

A beautiful linen shower was given the bride Friday evening by Mrs. W. W. McElrath, and a party given over by Mrs. J. J. Scherer.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Hanson, New York; Mrs. M. P. Kidd and daughter, Bristol; Mrs. J. S. Akers and Miss Akers, of Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hester, Roanoke; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Preston and Miss Preston, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, of Roanoke; Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, of Lynchburg; the Misses Cannady, of Roanoke; Misses Annie and Lucy Thacker, of Salem.

Russell-Smith.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—LYNCHBURG, VA., December 9.—An interesting marriage occurred to-night at the Court Street Methodist Church in the presence of a large audience, the principals being Mr. John Pate Russell, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Gipsy Lee Smith, of this city. Dr. H. H. Bennett, pastor of the church, was the celebrant.

The pulpit was handsomely decorated with evergreens and tapers. The music was in charge of Professor W. S. Adams, the organist of the church.

Miss Ruby Ray Smith, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles P. Patterson, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Hugh Johnson, a sister of the groom, were the matrons of honor. Mr. Joseph Russell, of Knoxville, a brother of the groom, was the best man.

The bridesmaids were Misses Eula Kendrick, of Bristol, Tenn.; Margarette Russell, of Knoxville; Denora Snapp, of Glade Springs, Va., and Bessie Kinzel, of Bristol, Tenn.

The groomsmen were Messrs. Robert Tomlinson, of Cheraw, S. C.; Samuel Johnson, of Knoxville; William Murrell, Jr., of this city, and Mr. Ernest Kellar, of Knoxville.

The bride's gown was a handsome creation of brocaded satin made Emma, and the bodice was embellished with rose point lace and hand-embroidery. Her flowers were a showy bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell went for a Southern trip, to include Palm Beach, Fla., St. Augustine, Fla., and a number of other points. They will be at home in Knoxville after January 1st.

SUPREME COURT SAYS HE'S LUCKY

Former North Carolina Legislator Must Serve Thirty-Year Term.

RALBIGH, N. C., December 9.—The State Supreme Court in State vs. Banner, from Watauga county, sustains the sentence of Lute Banner, former member of the State Legislature, to thirty years in the penitentiary for killing Ambrose Cline, with whom he had a difficulty. Some time before the killing Banner had called a companion of Cline across to his store, and as Cline passed on the opposite side of the street Banner shot him dead, without Cline having the least suspicion that there was danger.

A plea of insanity was set up, but the Supreme Court Chief Justice Clark writing the opinion, declared that there was no evidence of insanity, and he should gladly take the thirty-year sentence in place of hanging.

There were twenty-five cases disposed of, with opinions and otherwise, to-day by the court, as follows: Beale and Copeland vs. Atlantic Coast Line, Wayne county, new trial; Cooper vs. Rowland, Durham, per curiam, new trial; Lanier vs. Hellig, Rowan, no error; Holler vs. W. U. Telegraph Co., Iredell, new trial; Kinney vs. Kinney, Rowan, no error; Mance vs. Southern Railway, Surry, affirmed; State vs. Burchfield, Mitchell, no error; State
